Part III DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103 which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. § 103, the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 C.F.R. § 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of potential 35 U.S.C. § 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 103.

2. Claims 1, 2, 7 and 8 to 28 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over Sifniades in combination with Anderson et al and Barcilli, for the reasons repeatedly made of record. The arguments raised in the two preliminary amendments filed on May 2 and June 13, 1996 are mere repeating of the same arguments raised in previous responses. The points raised in the declaration are likewise not persuasive since they do not present any additional data or comparisons with the prior art processes. The reasons that the combination of these cited references is considered to be proper have been set forth many times in the record and are not considered to be in error. The inclusion of claims 9 to 25 in the rejection is considered to be proper, even though these claims are presented to invoke an interference, since these claims are read in light of the instant disclosure and not the disclosure of the patent to Zakoshansky. These claims when read in light of the instant disclosure are not seen to overlap the claims of Zakoshansky. The limitations presented by newly added claims 26 to 28 are not considered to be patentable since the acetone limitation of 40 to 60 % is within the range taught by the prior art.

Conclusion

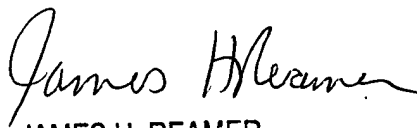

3. This is a continuation of applicant's earlier application S.N. 08/333,929. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds or art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See M.P.E.P. § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a).
